

House Slashes Excise Taxes; Quick Approval By Senate Predicted

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to slash about 25 federal excise taxes by 912 million dollars has won overwhelming House passage and today appeared likely to get swift Senate approval too.

The House speeded the measure to the Senate Wednesday by a 411-3 vote despite opposition from the Eisenhower administration.

The cuts, representing the first major downward revision of the excises or sales taxes in 20 years, would add almost a billion dollars to a deficit already forecast by the President at $2,900,000,000 for the year starting July 1.

Income Levies Next

The bill also includes something the administration wants and had figured into its budget for fiscal 1955—extensions of some steeper excises voted after the Korean War began. The Treasury would lose another $1,070,000,000 in revenue if these were to expire April 1 as scheduled.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee said he would call his group together promptly, perhaps Friday, to start work on the bill.

President Eisenhower announced Wednesday that he would make a nationwide telecast and broadcast next Monday to tell the country about the administration's position on taxes. No time was announced.

This was interpreted at the Capitol as an effort to head off any increase in personal income tax exemptions rather than to block the cuts in the 25 excises.

Down To 10 Per Cent

The first major test on the income tax exemptions is expected to come next Thursday in the

Printers Abandon 5-Year-Old Strike At Springfield, Mo.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Springfield's union printers have given up their nearly five-year-old strike against Springfield Newspapers, Inc., publishers of this city's afternoon and morning daily newspapers.

Local No. 158 of the International Typographical Union went on strike July 11, 1949, during contract negotiations at which wages were to be discussed. Members quit picketing the newspaper plant several months ago and voted 23-19 Tuesday night to abandon the strike.

The publishing company had no comment.

The struck dailies continued publication throughout the strike on an open shop basis.

Detroit Convicted Of Black Marketing At Club In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—An Air Force court martial today convicted a former Detroit man of black market operations and sentenced him to 18 months imprisonment and fined him $7,500.

Joseph R. Rubenstein, civilian manager of a club for Air Force civilians here in 1951, was found guilty on five counts.

He was found innocent of a charge of impersonating an Air Force officer.

The prosecution said Rubenstein used his position as manager of the club to falsify records, illegally import and procure liquor and funnel it into Japan's multi-million dollar black market.

Rubenstein, 35, was manager of the club from April, 1951, to April 1952.

Idleness Pay Bill Called Fake; Veto By Governor Hinted

LANSING (AP)—A compromise unemployment compensation bill passed the Senate Wednesday and was immediately blasted by Gov. Williams as a "shabby caricature" of what is needed.

Williams threatened to "go to the people" with an initiated revision of the jobless pay law unless the House improves the Senate bill.

A House Republican caucus agreed to hold back its own bill, one even less acceptable to Williams, and to work on the Senate measure. It did not agree to accept the Senate bill, however.

Extended To 26 Weeks

The measure, as passed in the Senate, increases maximum idleness benefits from the present $35 to $41 a week for a man with four children. Democrats have demanded from $44 to $52 a week.

It also sets up a new merit rating system for computing employer contributions to the $440 million unemployment fund.

And it extends the maximum benefit period from 20 to 26 weeks. Williams and Republican leaders were poles apart in interpreting the bill.

The governor said 64 per cent of the unemployed would either get no increase in benefits or only $2 a week. He said only 1.6 per cent of the unemployed would get the $41 maximum.

Highest In Nation

He implied he would veto the bill in its present form. However, the bill sponsor, Sen. James M. Teahen (R-Owosso) said it would raise benefits in Michigan to the highest in the nation.

"The minority party," Teahen said, "is again trying to deny workers an increase of 30 per cent in the duration of their benefits and 12 per cent in the amount of benefits."

The Senate also passed and sent to the House by unanimous vote a bill increasing workmen's compensation benefits $4 a week and extending benefits to those injured on their employer's premises even if not at work. The chamber restored a requirement that compensable injuries must be accidental.

State Senate Gets Flood Of Telegrams About TV Beer Ban

LANSING (AP)—Lt. Gov. Clarence E. Reid (R-Detroit) said today he was advising church and dry groups to raise their own advertising money and sponsor television programs of baseball and boxing.

This was Reid's response to a whirlwind of telegrams which began to arrive in the Senate as that chamber gingerly took charge of the House-approved McCune bill to censor TV beer and wine advertising. Much of this is linked to sports broadcasts.

Reid ignored the telegrams, which frightened the House into passing the bill, and sent the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee. Insider said it would die there.

"I got a stack of telegrams a foot thick already," Reid said, "to put this bill in the Liquor Committee. But it's going to Judiciary Committee because it is a legal matter."

"I'm telling these dry and church groups that if they had any sense they would raise their own money

Lansing Lobby Control Bill Watered Down

LANSING (AP)—In one of the most raucous sessions in years, the Senate passed a new lobbyist control bill Wednesday after weakening it at the last minute.

The bill squeaked through without a vote to spare, 17-14. The vote crossed party lines.

At one point the measure got so lost in parliamentary procedure that the Senate had to adopt a special rule to get it free for a vote.

Ethics Code Provided

Faced with expected defeat, the bill was rescued by the softening amendment and by a sudden reversal among several opponents at the tactics of lobbyists.

Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) said she decided it was a good bill after she learned one lobbyist for a group of manufacturers was able to get information out of a House committee which she was unable to get.

The measure retains the present law requiring lobbyists to register with the secretary of state. It also makes them report monthly their lobbying expenses, their employers, the bills they seek to influence, sets up a code of ethics for lobbyists and creates a joint legislative committee to police lobbyists.

Foe Dumps Wastebasket

The weakening amendment takes away the power of that committee to revoke or suspend a lobbyist license. The committee now can only recommend such action to the secretary of state.

Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids), a bitter foe of the bill, dumped his wastebasket on the desk of Sen. Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw), one of the sponsors, after the bill passed.

"You have this day crowned the man who called you a handout," Feenstra said.

Trapped By Flames, Four Brothers Die As Home Is Burned

BARNESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Four brothers burned to death, three of them trying frantically to escape the flames that destroyed their home Wednesday night.

The youths, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Moore, were: Richard, 17; Julian, 16; Winston, 13; and Larry, 10.

Mrs. Moore was sitting up with an ill neighbor and the father was at work on the night shift at Andora Mills when the blaze broke out.

Two of the bodies were found near a window and one near a door where obviously the three brothers were trying to escape. The fourth boy was still in bed.

Defense Aide Nominated For Navy Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Sparks Thomas of Los Angeles, now an assistant secretary of defense, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to be secretary of the Navy.

Thomas would succeed Robert B. Anderson, of Texas, who has been nominated to be deputy secretary of defense in place of Roger Kyes who is leaving the Pentagon May 1 to return to private business.

No successor to Thomas in his present job has yet been chosen. He is the assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics. Thomas, 56, served in naval aviation in the World War I, then went into an investment house in Los Angeles and later became president of a chain of west coast retail clothing stores.

In World War II, he was a special assistant to Artemus Gates, then assistant secretary of the Navy for air, and later was special assistant to the late James Forrestal who was then secretary of the Navy.

During this period of his government service, Thomas set up a Navy inventory control program and the Navy's first contract negotiation section.

Waukegan Store Burglar Killed

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Police said an 18-year-old sailor from Huntington, Ind., was shot to death Wednesday night after he had broken into a Waukegan store.

Authorities at Great Lakes Naval Training Center identified the dead man as Thomas Edward Fisher. They said he broke detention at the center March 3 while being held on an AWOL charge.

Lee Savage, owner of the Savage Sports Goods store, told police he shot Fisher with a 410 gauge shotgun about midnight after being awakened by an intruder. Savage said he moved his living quarters to the store sometime ago after the place had been burglarized four times in two years.

Authorities said Savage told them he called on the intruder to halt and opened fire when the man fled. Fisher's body was found about 125 feet from the store.

Police said they found an improvised blackjack — a pool ball inside a stocking — in Fisher's coat pocket. He was dressed in civilian attire, police said.

The dead man's Huntington address was 819 Kintz St.

Wisconsin Solon Gets The Jump On White House

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), nailing down the chance to make tonight the first broadcast reply to Adlai E. Stevenson, got the jump on an administration drive to lure the spotlight away from him.

The senator, still insisting he is entitled to free television and radio time over the networks which carried Stevenson's party speech last Saturday, announced he will make a "partial" reply tonight (6 p. m. CST) on the Mutual radio network.

That will be two days before the official GOP reply by Vice President Nixon.

Questions And Answers

McCarthy will appear on the 15-minute show of commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. McCarthy said it would be a "question and answer—mostly answer" affair. He said it would touch on criticism of him by both Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, and by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.).

NBC and CBS, which carried Stevenson's speech from Miami, Fla., have granted free time to the Republican National Committee for reply. The committee, which beat McCarthy to the draw in requesting it, chose Nixon as the GOP speaker.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that there is danger in "magnifying certain items of procedure and right and personal aggrandizement . . . to the point where we are endangering the program of action that all the leadership is agreed upon . . ."

Wrangles Obscure Issues

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said in an interview today he interpreted the President's words as indicating concern that his legislative program might be lost sight of in wrangling over McCarthy and his controversial investigations.

"The leadership is trying to keep the big issues before the people, the issues that affect their welfare and livelihood," Ferguson said.

Similarly, Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, (Please Turn To Page 6, Cols. 2-3)

Wakefield Woodsman Says He Was Treed By Howling Wolves

IRONWOOD (AP)—A woodsman's night of terror, stalked and circled by a howling pack of wolves or coyotes, was revealed today in a conservation officer's report.

The woodsman took refuge in a tree until the wild animals disbanded, then ran a mile to his cabin in the western tip of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

George Dahl, state conservation officer, reported the story as told to him by Alfred Marion, who lives 10 miles north of nearby Wakefield.

Youth Confesses $45,000 Spree

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit youth who admitted stealing $45,000 in government bonds to "live high" faces up to 60 years in prison and $60,000 in fines.

Lincoln Foster Stephens, 19, told treasury agents he stole the bonds from Elijah Conwell, elderly Mount Bayou, Miss., cotton mill owner, and went on a gay spending spree.

Using forged credentials of Conwell to cash the securities, Stephens said he bought himself two Cadillacs, expensive clothing and other luxuries and dropped $10,000 gambling in the Toledo area.

Sam Williams, 39, of Toledo, identified by police as Stephens' accomplice in the burglary of a safe from Conwell's home last August, was arrested earlier and sent to prison.

Stephens was nabbed as he attempted to cash six $1,000 bonds at a Bank of the Commonwealth branch last Friday.

Gruenther Says U. S. Has Power To Squelch War

By TOM BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, expressed confidence Wednesday night that there will be no third world war because he now feels "we have it in our power to make that decision."

Gen. Gruenther told the final session of the eighth annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries have attained what he termed "a substantial posture of strength" in Europe. He said it is sufficient to provide a shield against "any hot-headed act."

He said the United States and Allied powers are not now in a position in Europe "to meet an all-out Russian attack if they should make a determined effort." But he added, "We do have a force in being now which is probably more than the Russians can handle with the forces that they have in occupied Europe."

U. S. air power is rapidly reaching maturity on an atomic basis, he said, and within the next three years "we will have the potential of launching atomic attack by long-range and short-range aircraft, by guided missiles, and by artillery."

The biggest threat, he added, is overconfidence—an overconfidence which overlooks the fact that Russia's military might is not standing still and that Russia's attitude has not changed.

Strike Averted On MC Railroad

DETROIT (AP)—A strike of 2,000 Michigan Central railroad employees was averted early today, six hours before it was scheduled to start when union and management negotiators agreed to submit claims and disputes to arbitration.

Leverett Edwards, of the U. S. Mediation Service, after 15½ hours of continuous negotiating, said both parties agreed to submit claims and unsettled disputes to Judge Frank P. Douglas of Pine, Colo. Douglas will meet with management and union officials later, Edwards said.

The successful negotiation session also cancelled a planned freight embargo and the layoff of 12,000 Michigan Central employees. The strike was scheduled by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen after a dispute involving an interpretation of working agreements.

The strike could have affected Michigan Central operations in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Ontario.

Marion, 64, a veteran woodsman, said he was walking to his cabin about 10 p. m. Feb. 25 when he heard animals in the brush around him.

He shone his flashlight around him and was "able to discern that he was completely encircled by 15 or 16 brush wolves or coyotes," Dahl's report said.

Two of them were "exceedingly large and active," had big, bushy tails and resembled German police dogs.

Dahl said these two could have been timber wolves, which are much larger and more vicious than coyotes.

"The animals began to howl and leap about. Marion attempted to continue onward but was prevented from doing so due to the constant circling tactics of the coyotes or wolves."

"Marion then sidled to the base of a large poplar tree and set fires to scraps of paper he had in his pockets, thinking this might drive the animals away. This had no effect and when all his paper was burned he hastily clambered up the poplar tree."

"After remaining tree-bound for approximately 10 minutes, he observed that the pack had separated, half going toward the south, the remainder going northward."

"Marion thereupon descended but refused to remove himself from the asylum afforded by the tree for about an hour in the event the coyotes or wolves returned. Marion proceeded on a dead run to his shack, which was a mile away."

Marion said at no time did the wolves or coyotes attempt to attack him. But the woodsman said his mongrel dog had been killed and eaten by a pack of coyotes in the same area about a week before.

Gayeff Declares His Opposition To REA Loan Does Not Conflict With Board's Fact-Finding Duty

Todd Gayeff, chairman of Escanaba's Power Advisory Board, declared in a public statement issued this morning that his opposition to the REA loan to the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative and his discussion with Sen. Charles E. Potter in Green Bay on Feb. 11 on the power situation in this area are not in conflict with the fact-finding function of the Power Advisory Board.

Gayeff declared that in his conference with Sen. Potter in which Gayeff sought Sen. Potter's influence against the REA loan, he was speaking as an individual and not as a member of the Advisory Board.

Gayeff's complete statement follows:

"I have promised a statement of my position in conferring with U. S. Senator Charles Potter about the City of Escanaba's study of electric supply service.

"This is my statement:

"I was appointed a member of the Power Advisory Board to counsel the Escanaba City Council on the best means of providing electric power for its municipally-owned distribution system. Several proposals for power supply have been made.

Board Met Weekly

"I was appointed to the Advisory Board, I presume, because of my technical knowledge. I have an engineering degree from the University of Michigan and my business is electrical power construction and transmission. After my appointment to the Power Advisory Board I was named by its members as chairman and have served in that capacity since the board's organization in November, 1953.

"The board met weekly except in the holiday period and its meetings were covered by both press and radio. The Advisory Board has developed the facts pertinent to the city's decision on a power source and it has evaluated them economically. The board's work was complicated by the necessity for education of its members in many technical phases of their considerations, for this is a very technical problem.

"The Advisory Board is within three or four weeks of a report to the City Council on its findings. The members of the Advisory Board consider this a very important matter to the City of Escanaba and environs or they would not have devoted so much effort to the accomplishment of the task assigned to them by the City Council.

Talked With Potter

"On Feb. 11 U. S. Senator Charles Potter of Michigan addressed a meeting in Green Bay, Wisconsin. His presence so near Escanaba gave me opportunity to discuss with him some of the issues in the Escanaba power supply problem. I used this opportunity to speak with Senator Potter on the subject. It was Senator Ferguson and Potter's office that had announced approval of the REA loan. I told him of my very sincere belief that the REA loan to the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association was not the best thing for the area.

"Alger-Delta has proposed to supply the City of Escanaba with surplus power from the generating plant to be built with the REA loan.

"My speaking to Senator Potter on the REA loan has been held by some to be improper during my service on the Advisory Board. I did not so regard it, of course, or I would not have conferred with Senator Potter to enlarge his understanding of the power situation in our area.

Usefulness Unimpaired

"I do not think that my position in opposition to the REA loan destroyed my usefulness to the Power Advisory Board. My belief is born of my knowledge of the situation, which is considerable, and I am doing what I truly believe is in the best long-term interests of the community, which needs assured, economical, priced power if it is to grow industrially.

"The Power Advisory Board members are free to act on their beliefs in their report to the City Council. I have thoroughly familiarized myself with the issues and I have formed an opinion. It is an honest opinion and I would be derelict of duty if I were not to use all means to bring it forward for consideration. This I am attempting to do. This brought my conference with Senator Potter. There was nothing mysterious nor secret about our meeting; I sought to inform him upon the situation in Delta County as I observed it. In the process it was inevitable that I expressed my opposition to the REA loan.

"The Power Advisory Committee will make a report on the facts of REA power supply, as directed by City Council. I most earnestly urge that the public await this report and its supporting data and not enter a controversy about the private opinions of board members. Let the competitive proposals stand forth for public evaluation. The Power Advisory Committee cannot commit the City to a course of action; its primary function is to clarify the competing proposals. The public should be mindful that it has, to date, heard most about REA power, little about municipally-generated power and virtually nothing about power supply from an outside utility, which last source is not even under consideration in this study.

Speaking As An Individual

"I regret that my conference with Senator Potter has been interpreted by some as harmful to the Advisory Board. I made it amply clear to Senator Potter that I was speaking as an individual, and not a member of the Advisory Board.

"I would not willingly harm the Board, nor do I think I have, for its function is fact finding and to this task I have devoted myself for four months. The public is served by presentation of facts for its judgment, not controversy over the beliefs of board members. It may be argued that it would be best to have Advisory Board members who were so objective that they were without opinion on the matter under study, but this is humanly impossible for a person such as I who must reconcile his knowledge of the problem with his sense of civic duty."

Woman Attempts To Commit Suicide In L'Anse Jail

L'ANSE—A 38-year-old woman arrested by state police on a disorderly behavior charge late Monday afternoon attempted to commit suicide in the Baraga County jail at 6:30 p. m. yesterday when she broke a cream bottle and slashed both of her wrists.

After cutting her wrists, the woman began to scream. "I'm bleeding!" Sheriff John Payne immediately investigated and then summoned a physician. One wrist required four stitches and the other medical attention and bandaging only. The woman apparently had cut her wrists in hopes of being released from jail officers said.

The woman, who listed her address as Laurium, was arrested with her husband after a passer-by on US-41 told police the couple were standing by a fire along the road and appeared to have been drinking.

NOTICE TO UTILITY CUSTOMERS

Utility rate ordinances provide for the collection of a five percent (5%) penalty on all utility accounts not paid on or before due date. However for some time each customer has, when late, been excused from paying the penalty on one month's bill one time each year.

Because of certain Administrative, Accounting and Collection difficulties and expense encountered in our present policy of excusing a customer from paying the penalty on one late payment each year, it becomes necessary to make a slight change in our policy in this regard.

Effective March 15, 1954 and thereafter each utility customer will, if late, be granted an extension of time for paying one month's bill or part thereof one time each year, except that no extension of time will be granted a utility customer who is in arrears in his utility account. The period for paying that one late bill without penalty will extend to and include the date following month's bill is mailed out.

All amounts shown as arrears on a utility bill are subject to a five percent penalty which must be paid at time payment of arrears is made.

Cloudy, Perhaps Snow, Tomorrow

A change to cloudy, with the possibility of a few flurries of snow, is the forecast for tomorrow by S. E. Decker of the Escanaba weather bureau. The gradual recession from winter will continue for at least the rest of the week, he says. Tomorrow morning's low will be about 20 and high should be about 35.

A low of 16 was recorded here this morning with similar readings reported from most of the Upper Peninsula with the exception of Sault Ste. Marie where 11 degrees was reported. There were flurries of snow at Marquette and in the Copper Country. Snow is also reported in the Green Bay and Wausau, Wis. area.

A big storm is in the making east of the Rockies with high winds with the storm center in the vicinity of Casper, Wyo. There is not much precipitation, however and temperatures are not low.

An unusual feature of yesterday's weather report was the unusually high temperatures recorded in Texas. Del Rio had 98 and El Lorado, 99. This is a record high for so early in the season.

Aged Pensioner, Worth $1,500, Is Found Dead Here

Mike F. Spooner, about 70 years of age, was found dead on the ground near his small house on Escanaba's North Bay Shore yesterday afternoon, and police today reported the aged social security pensioner appeared to have cash assets totaling $1,585.

A bank book found in Spooner's house showed a balance of $1,300; the aged man, a former woods-worker, had $285 on his bank book, of which $280 was in a handkerchief tied around his leg below the knee.

Acting Coroner Dr. Robert E. Ryde and police investigated the death. The body was fully clothed and face down near an outhouse. Death was reported to have occurred sometime Wednesday night.

Joseph Waitkales, a neighbor, found Spooner's body and notified George Nelson of 1329 Sheridan Road, who reported the death to police.

The body was taken to the Degan funeral home. Authorities said they knew of no relatives of the dead man.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m., Saturday in St. Joseph's Church with Fr. Stephen Schneider, OFM, officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

REV. R. E. ECKERMAN, Escanaba, participated in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the $300,000 headquarters office building for the 159 Seventh Day Adventist churches in Michigan. The ceremony was held March 9 at the site of

Study Old System:

Consider Separate Fire, Police Chiefs For City

The resignation of Escanaba Public Safety Director Glen S. Leonard to accept a similar position at Oak Park, Mich., effective April 1, may result in a change-back in Escanaba to the former separate fire chief and police chief system.

The so-called integrated fire and police departments here (integrated only at the administrative level) was put into effect by City Council action in 1949.

On Nov. 1, 1949, Jack Koerke was appointed by City Manager A. V. Aronson as safety director to head both departments, following the retirement of Fire Chief Jerry Jerow.

Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer continued in that position until his death in an automobile accident in June, 1951.

Up For Consideration — Leonard replaced Koerke as safety director and head of both departments in June, 1950.

Now Leonard has announced his resignation to accept the position of public safety director at Oak Park, a city of 20,000 population, where he will receive a salary of $7,020. His salary in Escanaba is $5,160.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire today said that "a certain amount of discussion among civic leaders, city employees, and informally among the Councilmen indicates the advisability of considering whether to continue with the safety director or place the departments under two chiefs."

The appointment of a safety director to fill the vacancy in the position of safety director is expected to be held in abeyance by City Manager Aronson, pending a meeting of the City Council on March 18, when the subject will come on for discussion.

Some Contacts Made

City Manager Aronson is in St. Francis Hospital as a surgical patient. He is not expected to return to his home for about one week, and then will continue at home during a period of convalescence.

Prior to entering the hospital, the city manager made some contacts with persons outside the community who might be interested in applying for the position. The city manager had expressed the hope the city could find a retired State Police officer who could qualify for the job.

In a growing number of cities in Michigan and other states firemen and policemen are in a combined department, and each man is trained to perform duties both as a fire-fighter and as a policeman.

President In Fine Health; Pearson's Comment Incorrect

WASHINGTON — A statement by columnist Drew Pearson that President Eisenhower has high blood pressure drew an official comment today that the President "is in fine health."

Pearson had said in a talk at Detroit Wednesday that Eisenhower would not seek a second term. He said the President's health was a factor, that he was suffering from high blood pressure.

Asked for comment on the speech, Press Secretary James Hagerty told a news conference: "I never comment on Mr. Pearson. 'As far as what he says about

Legalized Bingo Before Senate

LANSING — A proposal to legalize charity bingo in Michigan was reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee today for a floor vote by the Senate.

The proposal would ask the Legislature to submit to the people next fall a constitutional amendment removing the ban on lotteries as far as it concerns bingo games conducted by religious and benevolent organizations for charitable purposes.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), committee chairman, declined to disclose the committee vote but it was reported to be four to two.

Hittle said the committee report would be signed by Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), the vice chairman, an indication that Hittle himself had opposed releasing the proposition.

The bingo proposition is supported by an association of fraternal organizations which has been circulating petitions to place it on the ballot if the Legislature fails to act.

Diet Debates Pact

TOKYO — The U. S. - Japan mutual defense pact went to Japan's Diet today for ratification. Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party has predicted the pact will be ratified before the end of the month.

Turkey which was still importing grain in 1950 has become the fifth largest grain exporter in the world says the National Geographic Society.

Restricting TV Advertising Of Beer And Wine Is Illogical

THE House of Representatives of the Michigan Legislature really ducked its head in the sand in adopting the McCune bill to prohibit showing the drinking of beer and wine in television advertising.

This bill represents the kind of legislative censorship that deserves public condemnation. It is not a question of morals at all but rather a question of principle—and logic.

The sale of beer and wine is legal in Michigan. Advertising the sale of beer and wine likewise is legal in Michigan. It is senseless to prohibit the showing of beer drinking in television advertising as long as the sale of beer and wine is legal.

After all, everybody knows that people who buy beer or wine buy these commodities for drinking purposes. There is no point in disguising that fact.

If beer and wine are legal commodities in Michigan, then advertising these commodities should not be restricted. It is as simple as that.

Newspapers would probably benefit from this bill. It is not unlikely that some of the money now being spent for TV advertising by beer and wine companies may be diverted to newspapers if restrictions are imposed on TV commercials.

But any benefits that would accrue to newspapers due to this legislation would be lost in the long run by further invasion of legislative misthinking in the advertising field.

We cannot understand the paradoxical situation that developed on this bill. For instance, Rep. Frederic J. Marshall said that the bill "amounts to censorship and an infringement of the Bill of Rights". And yet when the bill was taken, he voted for the bill. Explain that, if you can.

Conlin Tax Plan Is Urgent Need

THE Michigan Education Association's unexpected opposition to the Conlin plan for revising the sales tax diversion amendment may throw a monkeywrench into the proposed constitutional revision. The MEA is an extremely potent lobbying organization on matters of education and the tax diversion amendment that is now in effect was adopted primarily because of the MEA lobby.

According to the Associated Press, the main objection to the Conlin plan by the MEA is that it does not provide any significant increase in state aid for schools. That in itself is hardly a justifiable reason for MEA opposition because the schools already get the major share of the sales tax receipts.

The Conlin plan is designed primarily to save the state from bankruptcy in the event of a business recession that would cut sharply the volume of the sales tax receipts. Primarily the Conlin plan would give the schools two cents of the three cents sales tax and would pay it out of current revenue. The present law provides for payment to the schools on the basis of the previous year's receipts.

If the sales tax curve heads downward, the state would be broke, its credit shaken and some rather drastic financial problems would quickly arise. The Conlin plan hopes to avoid this and the school lobby should not throw any obstacles in the way of a reasonable plan to accomplish a sensible solution to the problem.

There have been some rather sharp swings in the pendulum of state finances and the distribution of state funds over the years. The swinging of the pendulum has caused much of the troubles that are inherent in the sales tax diversion amendment. First the state hogged the receipts and doled them out to the schools niggardly. The schools never were able to properly plan their school budgets until they completed their annual legislative wrestle.

This prompted the sales tax diversion amendment and the pendulum promptly swung the other way. Now it is the school lobby that is in the driver's seat on the matter of finances and they are acting in self interest.

The public is caught betwixt and between.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is a roll-call vote required when the Senate consents to ratification of a treaty?

A—No, but several of the compromise proposals offered during debate on the Bricker amendment—to amend the treaty-making procedure—would require roll-call votes for ratification. Consent to ratification now requires a two-thirds vote of those present. During the current debate on the Bricker proposal, it was brought out that on at least one occasion, a treaty got through the Senate while only one Senator was on the floor. He didn't vote "yea," he just did not object to ratification.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Editors Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter, Mrs. George L. Arnold.)

Washington, D. C.
 March 10, 1954

Dear Daughter:

I am very glad to know that I am to become a grandfather for the third time, and it doesn't make me feel old at all. I don't think, however, that I'd better make any predictions, because I know you want a girl, and I seem to have had luck on personal predictions. I seem to have reasonably good luck predicting trouble in Egypt or elections in New Jersey, but when it comes to simple things like how many guests I'm going to bring home for dinner, Luvie says my batting average is zero.

I suppose it wasn't published in the California papers but Fulton Lewis got indicted for criminal libel the other day by a Maryland grand jury—which started me thinking about various things, some pleasant, some not so pleasant.

You used to play with his daughter many years ago, which was pleasant; but in recent years he and I have drifted rather far apart, and though you have probably forgotten it and I intend to forget it, he gleefully jumped on the McCarthy bandwagon when McCarthy was making speeches from the safety of the senate floor demanding that my sponsor cancel and that I be taken off the air.

However, it seems to me that the action of the grand jury in indicting Fulton when he criticized gambling and bootlegging in southern Maryland strikes a new low for intolerance on the part of public officials. It is not too far removed from the McCarthy retaliation against anyone who dares criticize him.

MARYLAND CLEANUP BACKFIRES

What happened was that Fulton's broadcasts secured the indictment of several people charged with gambling, and then the grand jury turned around and indicted him because he had some tough things to say about local judges.

Regardless of my own personal disagreements with Fulton Lewis it seems to me that to take criminal action against a newspaperman because he tries to clean up gambling and bootlegging, is going back to the days when the country was ruled by an absentee monarch.

Of course, Fulton's friend McCarthy has been helping to take us back. And a lot of the witnesses called before certain senate committees are as good as ruined long before they ever get a trial by jury. In fact, a new code of ethics seems to have developed for those whom congress wants to accuse and those who accuse members of congress.

For instance, Congressman Bramblett of California was not merely accused of using the taxpayers' money to feather his own pocket through kick-back funds, but he was convicted. Despite that he still sits in congress as big as life, still votes on laws which you and I have to live up to, and still has his wife on the public payroll drawing the top secretarial pay of $8,492 a year.

In contrast, some government clerk gets fired merely because she's hauled up before a congressional committee, while the congressional member of a committee continues to draw a salary even after he's convicted.

In a way Fulton Lewis has become a victim of this new double standard for officials and private citizens and of the new technique whereby government officials strike at their critics through criminal retaliation. They don't bring civil libel suits, which they have every right to do, and which no newspaperman—except Pegler—can complain about.

A civil libel suit is a necessary risk of journalism and any good newspaperman who tries to get at the truth is bound to get sued in the civil courts. But a criminal indictment, brought by officials who have the police power at their beck and call, borders on the vindictive tyranny of the early days of this country.

In fact the law under which Fulton Lewis was indicted was handed down from early Colonial days when British officials were worried about respect for themselves and King George.

FIRST PRESS CRUSADER

Whenever your father gets discouraged about what a newspaperman should stand for, I like to read about the battles for freedom fought in those days, especially about the first great American journalist, Tom Paine. Though Tom Paine wasn't among the signers of the Declaration of Independence, he probably had as much to do with winning our basic freedoms as anyone. I read him a little this morning as I was thinking of Fulton Lewis; and I came across Edmund Burke's warning to Paine that his "Rights of Man" did not "deserve any other refutation than that of criminal justice."

Tom Paine's answer was a masterpiece. It's too long to quote in full, but in brief, he said:

"It is for the good of nations, not for the emolument or aggrandisement of particular individuals, that government ought to be established the defects of every government . . . must be as open to discussion as the defects of a law, and it is a duty which every man owes to society to point them out . . . those subjects (the reform and criticism of government) are always before a country as a matter of right, and cannot, without invading the general rights of that country, be made subjects for prosecution. On that ground I will meet Mr. Burke whenever he pleases."

So, as Tom Paine said nearly 200 years ago, if we are going to have good government and clean government, the right of Fulton Lewis to free and reasonable comment has to be protected, no matter how much I may disagree with him. For, once that right vanishes, the dividing line between free government and the government we criticize in the Kremlin also vanishes.

Sorry to write such a long and solemn letter on such a solemn subject I'll write a better one very soon.

Love,

From the old man

A Little Prayer Would Come in Handy About Now

Job Hunting Girls Past 40 Are Puzzle For Women's Bureau

By PATTI SIMMONS

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Florence Nightingale had passed 35 at the height of her nursing career; Louisa May Alcott bagged success at 36 with "Little Women"; and Marie Curie won the Nobel Prize for her work with radium when she was 44.

But today's modern working girl, 35 or over, is practically ready for the shelf. At least that's what's in the minds of many employers, the U. S. Women's Bureau points out.

Hardly a week goes by, declares the bureau, that a letter does not come in from a woman somewhere in the United States who's looking for a job. The seriousness of the situation for these job-hunters, many of them 60 or more, is shown in the desperate tone of some of the letters.

"Private employment bureaus shook their heads," writes a 49-year-old woman from Rhode Island, "and simply said 'Sorry kids, no one over 35.'"

From Detroit, a widow, 59, relates: "I am looking for a job in factories, stores or any place where one can make an honest living. My age is against me. I am desperate and don't know where to turn. Could you please help me?"

A Sacramento, Cal., job-searcher who had hotel and nurses aide experience says she's told she's now too old for that type of work.

A 56-year-old "worried widow" writes: "Since my husband died nearly three years ago I have been knocking around from pillar to post and trying to get a decent job with a living wage." The employers of today, she writes, will make all kinds of excuses "to keep from hiring any woman after 35 years of age."

How come there are so many older women looking for jobs?

Among persons 45 and over, there are now a million more women than men. Statistics show that while the entire population doubled from 1900 to 1950, the middle-age group 45 to 64 tripled and the over-65 bracket increased four-fold.

Add to this: that women have a longer life-expectancy than men; that older women are freer to go into the labor market than young mothers; that some widows with insurance policies and pensions are finding they fall short of current living-costs.

Barriers to their employment are real. But the reasons for these barriers, the Women's Bureau declares, may not be.

Although more exploratory work needs to be done on the relation of work performance and learning to age, a few studies which have been made show that any loss of speed or muscular strength among workers past 40 is compensated for by increased skills and better judgment.

Workers 45 and over, in 109 manufacturing plants studied by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, were absent less often than younger workers and had fewer injuries. The older workers, however, recovered more slowly from injuries.

The woman worker who is mature and in good health "has great reserves of endurance and recovers rapidly from fatigue," it was discovered by the chief psychiatrist of a big insurance firm.

The Women's Bureau, which

OLDER WOMAN JOB-HUNTER is a familiar figure in employment offices today, with a million more women than men 45-plus.

does not function as a placement service, has put some practical suggestions on job-hunting into a pamphlet entitled "Over 40 and looking for a job?"

It recommends that the job-applclicant (1) use the public employment office and counseling facilities, (2) the placement bureau of their trade union, professional association or college, (3) watch newspapers for accounts of new plants, branch banks or department stores to be opened in the neighborhood.

In job interview hints, the Women's Bureau warns against trying to act like a teen-ager. It's bad, though, for even a gray-haired grandmother to apologize about birthdays.

Concentrate on the advantages of maturity, the bureau says. Dependability, accuracy, good judgment, sensible habits, no fooling on the job and willingness to take on responsibility are the older women's top assets.

WASHINGTON—Khyber Pass, historic invasion route to India known to almost every adventure-hungry American boy, again has become a crossroads of world events.

For centuries migrating tribesmen and marching or mounted troops have threatened the narrow defile. Soldiers of Alexander the Great the Tatars of Tamerlane, bejeweled Mogul potentates and their implacable enemies, the Afridi Pathans, all crossed the pass. Hard-fighting British and their local allies won fame as the Khyber Rifles for guarding its camel caravan traffic.

"That narrow sword-cut in the hills," as Rudyard Kipling called the Khyber (pronounced Ki-ber), now lies on the border between Pakistan's North-West Frontier Province and Afghanistan, says the National Geographic Society. This region has become a bone of contention between the two countries. Afghanistan recently requested the British to revise the 1921 boundary treaty.

Busy in Kipling's Day

In Kipling's day the pass was busy with commerce: And there fled on the wings of the gathering dusk A savour of camels and carpets and musk, A murmur of voices, a reek of smoke, To tell us the trade of the Khyber woke.

The 30-mile gorge still is a vital link in the trade of southern Asia. Bright-colored trucks carry pomegranates and cotton from the north and buses transport passengers, inside or on their roofs, from Kabul, Afghanistan's capital, to Peshawar, near the southeastern mouth of the pass in Pakistan. Between sheer cliffs double-humped Bactrian camels still crest the pass, 3,735 feet above sea level, with bulky burdens. Vehicles use one road, pack-animals another.

The barren, tailsome way is studded with pillboxes erected by the British during World War II. On the Pakistan side a railway winds to the border.

Gateway To India

Few mountain gaps possess so many historic associations as this gateway to the plains of India through the Safed Koh Range.

Although Alexander led the main body of his Greek forces into India farther to the north along the Kabul River, he probably sent a division through the Khyber. There in 1672 Afghan tribes captured a neighboring army of 40,000 men, including its elephants and treasures.

The British fought a series of nineteenth century wars along the border. The campaigns were marked by heroic deeds, hazardous sieges and weary marches, many of them centering about the Fort of Ali Masjid, high on the pass. Today, bronze plaques commemorate places where British and Indian regiments fought.

The cropless, waterless Khyber still has its warlike tribesmen, but since World War II they have mainly feuded among themselves, leaving the Khyber open as a door of commerce between nations. There is an ancient reason for this: they are paid to keep the peace.

The earliest known documents of India refer to sacred cows.

SIGNS OF SPRING—Spring will not officially arrive until March 20. Prior to that is March 15, the deadline for filing income tax returns, which is a dark day on anybody's calendar.

Despite the income tax deadline, there are heartening signs that a better (and a warmer) season is just around the corner.

A few crows have made their appearance in the countryside, the evening grosbeaks are showing up, and in town there was the recent report of the first robin of 1954.

The cold blast and snow storm that followed the first robin made such prognostications strictly for the birds.

Yet nature has taken on a more smiling countenance and it will not be long before home owners will be looking for the first spikes of sprouting tulips, the spears of iris will show in sunny locations, and lilacs will begin to swell their bud cases in anticipation of later blooms.

THE YOUNG WORLD—With no other incentive than a bit of sunshine and a few areas free of snow and ice, the youngsters are beginning their spring activities—another indication of the seasonal change.

Kites have spelled out the story of spring, whipping in the wind on the end of a long string, bobbing and nodding against the backdrop of blue sky and white clouds.

In school yards and on sidewalks the youngsters kneel to "shoot" marbles, another sign of the spring.

One grinning boy, his jacket pockets rattling with marbles, came traipsing along the sidewalk from school. Stopping, he slapped his pockets and announced:

"I got all the marbles from three kids! I skunked everybody dry!"

Spring has a way of doing big things to little boys. It made a hero of a boy with an accurate thumb and unusual luck. Tomorrow, perhaps, he would lose all those marbles to someone else.

SPINNING AND ROLLING—What has become of the old-fashioned top as a sign of spring?

Once upon a time the top (the kind made of wood, about which was wound a length of string to set it spinning) was the No. 1 toy for boys. And they were spun indoors during the winter and outdoors as soon as the sidewalks cleared.

Now the top is such an elaborate toy that youngsters have been discouraged from their use. Or possibly the space gun and helmet have replaced them in boyish favor.

Roller skates still sound along the sidewalks in springtime—for nothing can supersede the elemental thrill of skimming along on wheels. When one is young this is doubly pleasurable, for it lends wings to the feet and to the imagination.

Iron rollers clacking on concrete, interspersed with childish laughter, are part of the springtime symphony.

STILL TO COME—The season is doubly enjoyable for what it is now—and for what it promises.

Immediately beyond the roller skates, the marbles and the kites, is the still better season—summertime and vacation from school.

Then there will be swimming and long warm days of sunshine, picnics and weiner roasts, fishing or just doing nothing for long hours at a time. Who doesn't enjoy spring in anticipation of the season that follows?

But right now, on the eve of spring, there is a quickening in the tempo of life itself. Out of the roots the sap is rising in the maple trees, and the annual harvest of sweet water that is boiled down into maple syrup and maple sugar will soon start in sugar bushes of Northern Michigan.

Gardeners are planning how much space they will devote to planting lettuce, radish and bean seeds; housewives thinking of spring housecleaning; and husbands are thinking of going fishing or golfing while this annual chore is under way.

But it is among the children that signs of spring are most evident. There is a dreaminess in their eyes, a liking for wandering outdoors without coats, and a habit of wading over the tops of their overshoes in puddles of water.

Such are the signs of spring in a region where the long winters make the change of seasons most welcome. The South may be more favored by the sun in winter, but in the North spring is a dramatic and exhilarating experience.

Prompt Treatment Of Eye Disease Is Very Important

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Iritis is one of the serious eye diseases. It is usually associated with pain, watering of the eyes, excessive sensitivity to bright light, and if long continued, interference with vision. The pain is likely to be severe, and worse at night. Touching or pressing the eyeball usually is excruciatingly painful.

If iritis begins suddenly the symptoms are likely to be worse than in the chronic variety, but recovery usually comes more rapidly, perhaps in a few weeks. When proper treatment is begun early the iritis often clears up completely, but complications and the possibility of chronic inflammation are likely.

Iritis is sometimes associated with rheumatism, diabetes, tuberculosis, syphilis, or injury. It is most important that the cause of the iritis be discovered whenever possible. The disease or condition producing the inflammation of the iris must be treated as well as the eye itself. The search for infection elsewhere in the body must be carried out painstakingly and thoroughly. But sometimes no cause whatever can be found.

The eye itself requires highly skilled treatment, including the use of drugs, heat applied locally, rest, and protection from light. Sometimes a method called foreign protein therapy has been found helpful in iritis. This consists in injecting some protein substance (boiled milk is an example) which produces a reaction in the body, usually with fever.

DRUGS SOMETIMES HELP

This seems to stimulate resistance and often has a favorable effect on the iritis. As in most other inflammatory diseases of the eye (but not such things as cataracts, simple glaucoma, and the like) ACTH or cortisone are often extremely useful.

When anything goes wrong with the eyes, diagnosis and treatment should be prompt since the risk of permanent damage to these vital organs is great. It is not possible for a patient to tell what kind of eye trouble he has from the symptoms alone and therefore nothing should stand in the way of seeking expert advice promptly. In iritis, as in other eye diseases, the vision itself may be at stake.

IS THIS "PERFECTIONISM"?

How can we rescue this perfectionism we are interpreting from psychological "perfectionism"? Will this not set the goal so high that it will end in discouragement and defeat? What are the saving factors?

The saving factors are four: First, in "perfectionism" you are the center of your endeavor to do everything perfectly. In the perfection Jesus presents, God is the center. In the one you work out from yourself; in the other you work from God. Since every self-centered person is automatically self-frustrated, so every perfectionist always living in a state of self-reference, is automatically frustrated. Second, since God is the center of Jesus' perfection. He offers grace and power to move on to that goal. This grace and power save from the frustration that comes from depending on the limited resources of our own selves. Third, since this perfection will always be a relative perfection—relative to something higher than itself, God—it can be realized and yet not realized. The bud may be perfect as a bud, but not perfect as a flower. Ours is to be a growing perfection, growing forever. The finite will forever approach the Infinite but never arrive. Fourth, since this perfection is primarily a perfection in love, it is consistent with imperfection in the manifestation of that love.

For instance, a father had been absent for a long time, and when he returned, his little boy was so happy he could scarcely contain himself. He wanted to show his love, so he asked: "Daddy, can't I do something for you?" The father asked him to bring a glass of water. The little fellow went pell-mell across the room, poured some of the water into the glass and some on the table, grabbed the glass and put his two little dirty fingers inside the glass as he held it. And when the father took it from him, there were two little muddy streams trickling down on the inside of the glass. The father turned the glass around and drank every bit of it. The boy stood there rubbing his hands on his jacket saying, "Daddy, can't I do something else for you?" His love was perfect, but the manifestation of that love was imperfect.

Father, I thank Thee that Thou satisfieth me and yet forever unsatisfieth me. I have, and I yearn to have, I thank Thee, Amen. AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: I am the most satisfied, unsatisfied being on earth.

Bullet Catchers Have Sharp Trick

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Now that television is bringing back to life all the old vaudeville acts, it seems to me likely that we'll again see the old trick where the star's pretty assistant catches a bullet between her fingers. If it is a really sharp show she may snaffle it with her teeth.

All of which is sheer legerdemain, since quite obviously catching a powder-driven projectile between one's choppers is cause for a considerable dentist's bill, if not an invoice from the undertaker.

Yet for purposes of ballistic study, fired bullets must be caught, if possible, without deformation. In a police laboratory it is standard procedure to check the slug recovered from the corpus delicti against one fired from the weapon found tucked under the blonde mystery lady's lingerie.

Quite obviously, the test bullet must be as little marked up as possible. This job is easy, the velocity of pistol bullets usually being so low that they can be slowed to an easy stop in a long box of packed cotton.

But catching rifle bullets is apt to be a tougher problem. Sawdust or excelsior works pretty well. Water is likely to be useless because it acts almost like a solid.

When we move into really high-speed bullets, for example the .220 Swift class of cartridge, the problem is really tough. Mother Nature, however, has provided us with a first rate stopper in the form of soft fresh snow.

Some winters back I was experimenting with high speed .22 caliber bullets, and fired a few at a weed-top sticking out of eight or ten inches of new snow. I noticed that those shots had furrowed into the snow, but apparently had never come up out again.

A little digging around brought to light the bullets almost unmarked save for the engravings put on the jacket by the lands of my barrel. The bullets had hit the snow at 3800 feet per second and had come to a gentle stop without injury.

So, if you crave to catch a few fast bullets, never mind looking up an old vaudevillian. Just wait for a good snowstorm.

In 1915 an earthquake caused a Nevada mountain to grow 30 feet, says the National Geographic Society.

Famed North Ireland City Seeks Industrial Revival

WASHINGTON—The city of Londonderry, which lent its name to a moving Irish folk melody, the Londonderry Air, would like to hear the hum of new industry.

Northern Ireland's second largest city, after Belfast, Londonderry has long been an important port and center for shirt and collar manufacturing. Now, with a surplus of labor and with modernized port facilities, the city of 50,000 inhabitants hopes to match with industry its wartime activity as a naval base.

Londonderry is the principal city of the county that bears its name. It stands on the bank of the River Foyle four miles above an almost landlocked estuary, Lough Foyle, says the National Geographic Society. Although given the longer name of Londonderry when it was handed over to London interests in the 17th century, the city and its county are always referred to simply as Derry, the town's old name.

"Place of Oaks"
Linked with England by regular steamer service and by rail with Belfast, 95 miles to the southeast, Derry is a natural distributing center for northwestern Ireland. Southward lie rich agricultural lands whence barges move downriver from Strabane on the Eire border. Behind Derry to the west rise the purple mountains of Donegal.

Derry grew in the 6th century around a monastery built by St. Columba in an oak grove. The name Derry is formed from the Gaelic "Doire", meaning "place of oaks."

Viking raiders burned the town repeatedly, and it saw heavy fighting in Elizabethan and Cromwellian times. In 1689, during an eight-month siege by the forces of James II, Derry earned its ringing motto, "No Surrender."

Led by a militant clergyman, doughty citizens repulsed every attempt to capture this key to James' lost English throne. Relief ships finally broke through to Derry's aid and James marched away to final defeat at the Battle of the Boyne.

Walled City
Derry's walls, a mile in circumference and pierced by seven gates, still girdle the cathedral-crowned hill that forms the center of the modern city. They are the most complete city walls remaining in the British Isles. Bristling with old guns and planted now with flowers, the bastions overlook two miles of quays.

Londonderry was a center for American, British and Canadian naval forces in World War II. As many as 160 vessels at a time were based at Derry, and 60 German submarines surrendered there.

It is the Londonderry Air, however, that has made the city's name most famous. At least one noted composer has called it the most beautiful melody in the world.

Strange Musical Gadgets Heard Around The World

WASHINGTON—Aladdin rubbed his lamp and up popped a genie. In the West Indies, music-minded islanders are tapping on steel oil barrels with rubber-tipped sticks—and out pour magic melodies.

Enthusiastic "steel bands" now springing up around the Caribbean say their tunes are as true as those of conventional orchestras. Certainly they have a haunting quality all their own.

The steel-barrel instruments are discarded from an oil-industry warehouses scattered among the islands. The musicians cut the drums to size with a hacksaw, and tune them by sledgehammer. With the talent of people who created Calypso, they pound out indentations on the drum face until they achieve the precise tonal effects desired.

Dancers Jingle Pebbles

All over the world, the ingenious use of primitive devices proves that music will out.

Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, wife of the editor of the National Geographic Magazine, reported in a recent article on the improvised gadgets played by the native gold miners of Johannesburg, South Africa.

One dancer at a tribal show at the mines "rattled his own accompaniment with stones in a shoeblackening can... There were drumheads stretched across barrels, tin whistles, and warimbas made of planks, copper tubing, and tin cans."

In Latin America, each nation has its own assortment of native rhythm makers, some that go back to the old Indian civilization of the Inca and Aztec.

Among curious examples are cow-horn, deer-hoof, and gourd rattles, bamboo flutes, copper bells, and trumpets made of bark, clay, seashells, and animal bones. Other pieces include grotesque but beautifully carved wooden whistles, panpipes of bound reeds, and bird-beak and crab-claw jingles.

Materials at Hand

Through the ages primitive musicians have used what came to hand. The drums that throb in jungle villages, from central Africa and Caribbean isles to the Far East, may be huge calabash shells, hollowed-out tree trunks, or converted pottery jars. On some, buck-skin, sheepskin and lizardskin covers give off the reverberations. Hides of the pig-like peccary are popular in South America; in Australia, the wallaby skin.

Students agree that many string instruments originated in Asia. An ancient contrivance still played in the world's remotest areas is the musical bow. It resembles the hunter's arched bow, with a fiber or string stretched its length, and either an attached or separate sound box. Musical bows ranging from 25 feet to a few inches have been found.

Musicians of India draw plaintive melodies from a long-necked string instrument whose body is a dried pumpkin. Peruvian shepherds play lingering, melancholy notes through a flute made from the leg bone of a llama. Australian aborigines strike together two boomerangs, or music sticks, with an intense metallic syncopation.

Another bushman favorite is a leaf from the eucalyptus tree, held to the mouth somewhat as children blow through a blade of grass. When an aborigine chorus sings some ancient ancestral theme through the strangely vibrating gum leaves, the effect is unique in primitive music.

Photo-diagram illustrates terrific force of H-bomb that tore a cavity in the floor of the Pacific a mile wide and 175 feet deep.

Here's Destructive Fury Of The H-Bomb

Map shows areas of destruction that hydrogen bomb would affect if it were dropped in the center of the District of Columbia, shown by dotted-line square. From ground zero there would be "complete devastation" within a circle six miles in diameter.

How much more destructive than the atomic bomb the H-bomb can be was disclosed by Rep. W. Sterling Cole, of New York, in the first detailed official public discussion of the world's first full-scale hydrogen bomb test at Eniwetok in 1952. The story is told graphically here in diagram and picture. The hydrogen bomb blasted a vast crater, a mile across and 175 feet deep, in the floor of the Pacific Ocean. The Eniwetok test island was blown off the face of the earth. The H-bomb would do the same within a circle six miles across in a large city. How terrific its force is can be gauged by the fact that the A-bombs that destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II achieved total destruction in an area only one mile in diameter. Representative Cole, chairman of the House Atomic Energy Commission, pointed out that the explosion of the 1952 "hydrogen device" was just the forerunner of "an entire family of hydrogen weapons" of presumably greater power.

This is Hiroshima after the A-bomb explosion. But bad as it was, an area only one mile in diameter suffered this total destruction.

Algebra Rules Out Phoney Tickets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Algebra professors may not agree, but sponsors of the sophomore prom at Towson High School have declared 5/4 x 15 = equals 1. Somebody counterfeited $1 and $2 tickets to the prom the other day. The phony tickets trickled into the market a 25 cents a copy. The sponsors called in buyers of the genuine article and stamped their tickets with the distinguishing symbols "3/4 x 15 =."

And, on the night of the prom, anyway, 3/4 x 15 = equalled 1 admission.

Good Luck Charm Went Many Miles

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Mike McGrew deputy U. S. marshal here, has carried his son's first baby shoe as a good luck charm for 13 years. He has had it hanging on the rearview mirror of four automobiles and during the war, kept it in the pocket of his army uniform.

The shoe made two invasions and six times crossed the Mediterranean Sea. McGrew once was thrown into the sea but he and the shoe came out safe. McGrew estimates the shoe travelled 418,000 miles in his four cars.

The deputy marshal is getting a new car but he's facing troubles. The mirror is in such a position that the shoe can't ride as it did before. However, the deputy marshal vows he'll work out something. He couldn't go anywhere without the good luck charm.

Tooth Decay Is Retarded

CHICAGO (AP)—Incorporating antibiotics into dental cements and resins used to fill teeth apparently could help prevent decay later on underneath fillings, a dental study finds. Cavities are difficult to sterilize completely after decayed parts are drilled out, hence the later decay. Some types of filling have a germ-killing action, and this is stepped up by adding antibiotics to them, Dr. Maxwell B. Colton and Eugene Ehrlich of New York write in the Journal of the American Dental Association.

UNTAMED CHILDREN

CALGARY (AP)—One of the greatest problems facing schools is the increasing failure of parents to discipline their children, a teachers' convention here was told by Dr. E. P. Scarlett, chancellor of the University of Alberta.

"We can't educate until the home civilizes children," he said.

In lumber-scarce Afghanistan, only the ceilings in most houses are made of wood.

In Brazil They Are Known As 4-S Clubs

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The farm country in Brazil is getting to know 4-S clubs the way Yankee farm children know 4-H clubs, because O. V. Winks passed through. Winks is back on his job as Hamilton County agricultural agent after a two-year leave of absence to teach Brazilians the "American way" of planting and tilling crops.

Remembering 4-H clubs, Winks organized 30 such clubs in the South American farmlands. To translate the four H's—head, hand, heart and health—into the Brazilians' Portuguese, he used four S's—saber, senior, server and saude, which stand for know, feel, serve and health.

Britishers Like U. S. Evangelist

LONDON (AP)—A leader of Britain's Methodist Church declared U. S. evangelist Billy Graham is preaching in this country a "Deep South version of the Bible" which was abandoned by every scholar of repute half a century ago.

But the traditionally staid British seem to like it. Graham has been drawing an average 10,000 persons a night in the 10 nights since he opened his revival campaign.

The swipe at the Carolina religious leader was made by the Rev. Bryan M. Reed, secretary of the British Methodist youth department, in the magazine "Methodist Recorder." Reed wrote:

"My own anxiety is lest young people influenced by this campaign may be drawn into some of the narrow fundamentalist groups which are its main supporters."

"I do not object to their fundamentalism—we are all entitled to our own beliefs—but I greatly deplore their intellectual intolerance."

Gulliver

GULLIVER—The Board of Review met at the town hall Monday and Tuesday of this week for the convenience of those wishing information regarding their assessments.

The Gulliver Community Planning Club is sponsoring a card and bunco party at the Whitendale School Saturday, March 13, at 8 p. m. Lunch will be served.

The bi-monthly meeting of Birthday Grange will be held Thursday evening, March 18, at the Grange Hall. Lunch will be served after the business meeting.

Mrs. Rachel Cameron is a patient at St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba. Her condition is reported about the same.

Cpl. Donald Zuehlendorf at present is in Aschaffenburg, Germany. Following a short stay in the hospital, he writes his parents, he is anticipating a furlough in Italy. His brother Norman is at Fort Belvoir. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Zuehlendorf of Gulliver.

The condition of Rebecca Chartier, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chartier, is much improved.

Glen Beal is reported to be improving at Memorial Hospital.

Increase Registered In New Car Sales

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales are moving upward, Ward's Reports said.

The statistical agency said February sales reached 401,500 units, 13 per cent above January volume.

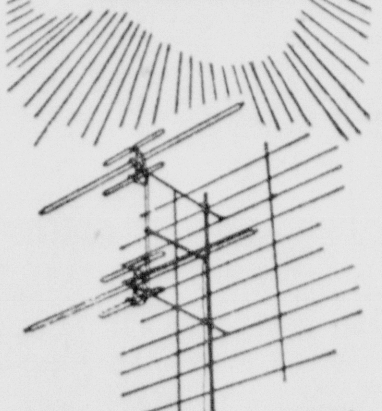

The March volume, it added, should parallel that of last March when dealers delivered 520,575 new cars.

Ward's said, however, that dealers stocks on Feb. 28 continued to rise, moving up about three per cent over the Jan. 31 high record of more than 600,000 units.

Erring Soldiers Rehabilitated

By TOM STONE
KAUFBEUREN, Germany (AP) — Hundreds of young American soldier-convicts are making good at a "second chance" U. S. army camp here in southwest Germany near the Austrian border.

Convicted in courts - martial throughout Europe for lesser offenses, they are sent here for rehabilitation and retraining instead of to prison or bounced out of uniform in disgrace.

The Army says 8 of 10 soldiers sent here are returned to normal military duty. Their average age is 21.

Kaufbeuren's prisoners have been convicted of such offenses as absence without leave, misappropriation of Army vehicles, disrespect for superiors, insubordination or drunkenness.

The soldier convicts live in the same type of quarters and eat the same foods as other U. S. soldiers in Europe. The Kaufbeuren center looks much like any other military post in the American zone of Germany.

But the Army's provost marshal in Europe, Brig. Gen. J. P. Holland of Chicago, Ill., says there's "no pampering or kid glove handling of the trainees. It's a tough retraining program."

Many People Aided In Success Of Rock District Tourney

ROCK—The district basketball tournament which was held at the Rock High School gymnasium on March 3-6 was a great success, according to tournament manager, George E. Weingartner, Supt. of Rock Schools. The attendance for the four nights totaled 4,718 persons. Saturday night had the largest crowd of 1,491 while the other nights were as follows: Wednesday, 1,018; Thursday, 1,124 and Friday, 985.

Jean Sandahl of Daggett presented a beautiful baton number after the first game on Wednesday evening.

Before the tournament got under way on Saturday night, the Rock accordion band played the Rock School March while the American Legion presented the color bearers and color guard with Les Maki, John Seppanen, Eugene Falck and Lionel LeClaire doing the honors. Members of the band were Gary Johnson, Butch Kliskinen, Ted Weldum and Linnea Johnson. Joyce Aalto was unable to be present.

Mr. Weingartner stated that the success of the tournament is due to the help of the Rock Lions, Legionnaires, Fire Department, PTA, teachers, Gladstone State Police and all others who donated their time to making it a success.

Ushers on Wednesday night were members of the American Legion: Les Larson, Les Viitala, Bud Carlson, Lionel LeClaire, Jack Kleiber, Dick Campbell and Clifford Carlson.

On Thursday and Friday nights the Lions did the ushering. Thursday ushers were John Norman, Ernest Fosterling, Herb Westlund, Leo Kuliki, Arne Johnson and Les Maki. On Friday night Eino Salmi, Ed Dyberg, Waino Salmi, Albert Weldum, and Jack Larson did the ushering.

Ushers on Saturday night were from the Rock Volunteer Fire Department. They were Frank Salmi, Clarence Larson, Herb Westlund, Paul Ranseth, Francis Trombly, Henry Jokela, Arnold Sayen and Elmer Lepisto.

Lunch was served in the shop room by the Rock PTA. Mrs. Horgan was chairman Wednesday. Mrs. Jacks, Thursday, Mrs. Ruotsala, Friday, and Mrs. John Jokela and Mrs. Albert Weldum, Saturday.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

One-Legged Men Master Skiing

By RALPH HOVIS

BIG BEAR LAKE, Calif. (AP)—The challenging art of skiing — tough enough for a normal person to learn — is being mastered by a group of determined, one-legged men.

Members of this bunch use one regulation ski, another on a crutch. They are students of the American Amputee Ski School, the only one of its type in this country.

Its director, Scoobie Smith of Lancaster, Calif., lost a leg in a bout with cancer two years ago.

The school, just started this winter, has about a dozen pupils, including three Army veterans of Korea.

"We can ride up on the rope tows, make downhill runs, do our turns and traverses like pros," Smith reported. "Last week, I even went through the slalom course. And did some airplane turns."

The school is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, which pays the teaching and equipment costs. Service clubs handle food, lodging and transportation expenses.

Rock

For Mrs. Niemela

ROCK—Friends and neighbors honored Mrs. Reino Niemela with a pink and blue shower Sunday afternoon at her home. Hostesses were Mrs. Ray Watts and Mrs. Elmer Linjala. Enters St. Luke's

Miss Thora Hansen, Lathrop, has entered the St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, for a series of operations on her leg which had been crippled by polio when she was a child. The first operation was performed Thursday, in an attempt to lengthen the muscles in the leg.

Film Program at Service

Robert Greenhow will show colored slides on Belgian Congo Sunday evening during the Family Bible Hour at the Rock Town Hall. He will also show additional slides during the Young People's meeting at the U. P. Bible Chapel at Little Lake Thursday evening. Crafts club will be conducted at the Rock Town Hall for the Rock group Wednesday afternoon. The public is welcome.

Security Gains Made By U. S. A.

By TOM BRADSHAW
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vice President Nixon told a Philadelphia Bulletin Forum audience Tuesday night the United States has adjusted its thinking to the point "where we will now fight on our own terms."

Nixon, in the forum's keynote address, said U. S. armed strength and military planning is being rearranged "to carry out that policy," a plan which he said has already borne visible fruit. "In not one area of the world," he said, "have the Reds gained this year — and in many areas we have made gains. For the first time in a generation we are experiencing peace and prosperity at the same time."

Nixon gave credit for what he called this successful shift to President Eisenhower, the National Security Council, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the "Defense Department team" composed of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Army Secretary Robert T. Stephens, Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott, and Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson.

Hat Style Show Held At Club Dinner Meeting

A hat style show, arranged by Miss Theodosia Kleinsmith of the millinery department of the Fair Store and Mrs. Elie DeDriver of the Marcell Shop, provided a delightful and timely entertainment feature at Tuesday evening's dinner meeting of the Escanaba Business and Professional Woman's Club at the Sherman Hotel.

The new spring headwear for every occasion was modeled by Mrs. Edward H. Huesener of Gladstone and Miss Elaine St. Vincent of Escanaba. Mrs. Caroline Nyström was narrator.

It was emphasized in the introduction to the revue that the new spring millinery does many things in addition to keeping a lady's head covered and that the "more hats" theme, much talked about last fall, has become a fact.

New flower treatments are contributing to the stimulating change in silhouette, it was pointed out, and other important factors in spring styling include continued promotion of the forward pose, variety of fabric and bright new colors.

Attractive table decorations in keeping with the theme of the program were small trees on which were small plastic hat boxes holding miniature hats.

Miss Kleinsmith, Mrs. DeDriver and Mrs. Nyström were members of the committee for the evening.

Nibbling's A Problem For 2-Way Dieters

By ROSEMARY CLOONEY
(Written for NEA Service)

Quiet evenings at home can become too conducive to nibbling for the girl who is trying to keep her weight down.

And when the man of the house is doing his reading with a tempting malted milk in one hand, things can be pretty rough. Munching on a carrot or apple can be quite satisfactory when others are doing the same thing. But I have had a struggle to keep my eyes averted from that malted milk of Joe's.

Of course, our quiet evenings don't remain quiet very long. We usually play records or read. But before long, we are lending a lively accompaniment to the music or exchanging commentaries on our current reading. Since we are both quick to express our opinions, these exchanges are rarely quiet.

But for us, that's wonderful relaxation; just what the doctor ordered, in fact. And I find that Joe's malted no longer has such appeal, while my carrot stick is quite tasty.

Cornell

This year's style show will be sponsored by the Cornell Home Extension Club. The girls are completing their projects in sewing, knitting, crocheting and good grooming. The next meeting will be on March 15.

School Board Meeting
The Cornell board of education met Monday afternoon at the Cornell Hall for the regular March session. Discussion of the importance of posting the daily hot lunch menu in the kitchen was stressed and classroom and other curricular activities were discussed. The next meeting of the board will be held April 12 at 1 p. m., at the Cornell Hall.

Planning to make a date-nut loaf to serve with coffee to your gang? Spoon the batter into small tomato juice or apricot nectar cans — leaving room for rising — and bake. Be sure to grease the cans well. These small loaves slice into such pretty round slices for spreading with softened cream cheese.

As often as they can, the Ferrers arrange to devote a quiet evening to reading or listening to records. For the occasion, Mrs. Ferrer serves her husband a malted milk and herself a few carrot sticks, some celery or apple slices as snacks.

Vacationers Are Returning From Tropical Cruise

A group of vacationers from this area who are in the south for the winter will return to Miami this weekend from a 13-day tropical cruise with other members of the Michigan State Tourist Society aboard the S. S. Silverstar.

They include Mrs. William Elmer, Mrs. Walter C. Richer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gafner of Escanaba and Al Wetterstrom and A. Z. Davis of Hermansville.

The cruise has taken them to Jamaica, Panama, Colombia in South America and Haiti.

In a letter to her daughter, Mrs. F. Earle Veldman, 211 S. 15th St., Mrs. Richer describes the trip as interesting and unusually pleasant except for two severe tropical storms which the ship encountered in the Caribbean.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Bride Juggles Five Careers

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK—Busiest bride in town is Nita Jonas Kopelman, who looks like a teen-ager and conducts enough businesses to keep a tycoon on the run.

Her latest enterprise happened by accident, after her mother had a "chicken-in-the-basket" party last summer at Southampton. Nita being a thrifty soul, hated to see all those baskets go to waste, so she made beach hats out of them, dreamed up some bags to match and sold the wares to Saks Fifth Avenue.

In Business

Other stores heard about these gay beach accessories and swamped her with orders. So Nita found herself in business, manufacturing beach hats and bags which she calls "She-She Originals."

Nita's main business, however, is writing children's books and songs, which are published in the "Little Golden Books" series, with records to match. Her current hit song for the kindergarten set is "The Goofy Song," which four-year-old hep cats insist really sends them. Coming soon are a new version of "The Reluctant Dragon" and "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," which Nita will call "The Circus Song."

She Can't Cook

One of her recent literary successes is "The Golden Book of Dogs," and soon to be published is a companion piece, "The Golden Book of Horses."

Nita composes pop songs for grown-up bop fans, too, and in her spare time turns out paintings which regularly are exhibited and sold.

The only thing Nita can't do, apparently, is cook. She says: "Whenever we have company I make toasted cheese sandwiches and brownies. That's as far as I go."

She was recently married to Melvin Kopelman, a retailing executive, who fully approves of all his wife's varied careers. Keeps her out of mischief, he says.

SMOOTH AS SILK—Richard Dwyer of Burbank, Calif., called the smooth skater in the entire ice show world, will appear in "Top Hat and Tails" in the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1954, which is opening a week's engagement March 23 at the Milwaukee Arena.

Gourmet Dishes With Sardines

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
Sardines go gourmet these days. Turn a French chef loose on a couple of cans of the Norway variety, and he comes up with such recipes as these for Sardines Orientale and Sardines with Shirred Eggs.

Sardines Orientale makes a perfect luncheon entree when prefaced by a soup and served with crusty hard rolls and a green salad. You need the rolls to dip into the wonderful sauce of this dish. For dessert, we suggest a fruit compote and thin rich brown-edged vanilla wafers.

Sardines with Shirred Eggs are a fine brunch dish. Do not accompany them with a special bread. If there's a French bakery in your neighborhood, maybe you can get Croissants or Brioche—or if you're adventurous, you can make your own. Failing these, toasted Parkerhouse, butter-flake or clover rolls will make mighty good substitutes. After the sardine-egg dish bring on a bowl of fresh pears, apples, grapes; top your pretty fruit arrangement with dates or figs. And don't forget to have lots of good hot strong coffee all through your brunch.

Sardines Orientale

Ingredients: 1 medium-size onion, 2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 pound firm tomatoes, 1 fat clove of garlic (crushed), 2 tablespoons cooking sherry, pinch of saffron (if available), salt and pepper to taste, one 3 3/4-ounce can Norway sardines.

Method: Peel onion; quarter and cut into thin strips; there should be about 1 cup. Heat olive oil in 8-inch skillet; add onion and cook slowly for about 10 minutes; it should be partly crisp and not browned. Meanwhile peel tomatoes by plunging them into boiling water; quarter and scoop out seeds with your fingers; chop; there should be a generous cupful. Add tomatoes, garlic, sherry, saffron (if used), salt and pepper to skillet. Cook slowly, stirring a few times, for about 10 minutes. Drain sardines, place half of them in two individual 6-inch heat-resistant glass pie plates; pour the sauce over; arrange remaining sardines over sauce. Bake in very hot (450°F) oven until bubbly about 5 minutes. Serve at once in pie plates. Makes 2 large servings.

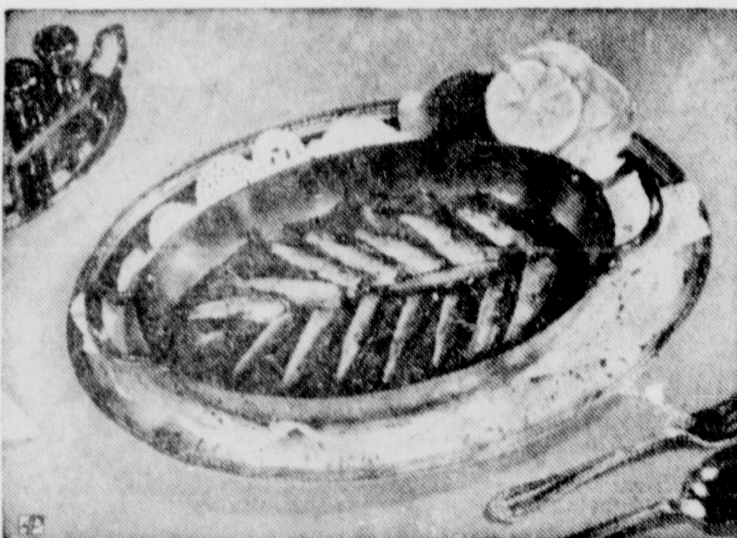

Note: One cup thoroughly drained chopped canned tomatoes may be substituted for the fresh tomatoes called for. Recipe may be doubled and heated in one large shallow baking dish or pie plate.

Sardines With Shirred Eggs

Ingredients: 4 teaspoons butter or margarine (soft), 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 8 eggs, one 3 3/4-ounce can Norway sardines, 1/2 cup Spread butter over the bottom of 4 individual shirred egg dishes. Sprinkle bread crumbs over butter. Break two eggs into each dish. Arrange sardines over eggs. Bake in slow (325°F) oven until eggs are firm—about 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

MIGHTY TASTY—Shirred eggs served with sardines.

A DIVINE SAUCE plus sardines makes a notable dish.

Wesley Givens Of Ice Follies Will Be Here Sunday

Wesley Givens of the Snapstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1954 will come to Escanaba Sunday, March 14, to arrange for tickets for residents of this area planning to attend the show during its run at the Milwaukee Arena March 23-28. He will be at 421 Ogden Ave. from 12 noon to 6 p. m. on that day and tickets may be purchased from him there during those hours. He may be contacted by telephone by calling 1762.

Indications are that a large delegation of Escanabans are going to Milwaukee for the show. Plans for the special train were abandoned, however, due to the fact that many families plan to drive and others wish to remain in Milwaukee longer than that arrangement would permit.

Mrs. Carl Olson Heads County Lay Health Committee

Mrs. Carl Carlson was elected president of the Schoolcraft County Lay Health Committee at a meeting March 9th in Lakeside school.

Mrs. Clarence Peterson was elected vice president and Mrs. L. T. H. Reque was elected secretary-treasurer.

During the meeting, John Bullock of Marquette showed colored slides and spoke on the Bay Cliff Health camp. Bullock is occupational therapist for the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

He noted that Bay Cliff Health camp is now in its 21st year, and is situated on the former Chedna stock farm, a mile north of Big Bay, on a cliff overlooking a bay on Lake Superior.

Original buildings have been converted into classrooms, dormitories and workshops. The hay loft became an auditorium and the barn was utilized for a dormitory, occupational therapy room, library, offices and laundry station. Surplus government buildings were obtained without cost and moved to the site, where they are used as cottages. A total of 17 cottages has been acquired and each houses 8 to 10 children.

The camp now is open to underprivileged children, diabetics, blind, deaf, speech-defective, cardiac, polio and cerebral palsy victims. Children with any and every kind of physical handicap are accepted. They are referred by county nurses or county health departments.

Since its organization, the camp has striven to combine recreation, education and therapy, Bullock explained.

During the meeting, the Seney lay health group reported it will help round-up children for an immunization clinic this month.

and the Gulliver group is assisting teachers in making eye check-ups.

A financial report on receipts and disbursements also was presented to members. Half of the Easter seal drive money is kept in the county, and the balance goes to state and national societies. Items which the committee has available in its loan closet now include two wheel chairs and a Porto lift, both of which are in use, and a pair of crutches.

The financial report was as follows:

Schoolcraft County Health Committee Receipts, 1953
On hand	$447.12

Play Feature Of PTA Meet

A play entitled "Scattered Showers," will be presented at a regular meeting of the Central Parent-Teachers Association Monday evening at 8 in the High School Assembly room.

The play has been prepared by the Mental Health Division of the Michigan State Health Department and is one of a series of three. The first was presented last year by a group of Escanaba High School students. It was titled "High Pressure Areas." The third will be presented next month.

Next week's play deals with the very young child while the last of the series covers the child before reaching teen-age.

In the play cast are Mrs. Marvin Larsen, Mrs. Bernard DeHoghe and Mrs. Dick Hammond. The play shows how the tenor of home life affects the child.

Following the play there will be a discussion of problems led by Mrs. R. A. Watson. Lunch will be served.

HELLO, SWEETHEART — Eric Trobehn greets Miss Charlotte Staudte, the girl he's been trying to marry for the past 40 years, as she arrives in Anchorage, Alaska. Two world wars, lost

Buying Practice To Be Surveyed

Because of the press of other matters Helmer J. Skogquist declined to serve as president of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce and the office will be filled at a regular meeting of the C-C Board of Directors on April 13.

A vice president also will be named at that time, the directors decided.

At the board of directors meeting which followed the Skellenger testimonial dinner Tuesday night, it was decided to conduct a survey on "The Buying Practice of Gladstone" with the assistance of the Extension Service of the University of Michigan and Supt. Wallace C. Cameron was authorized to contact Charles Folio, Escanaba, head of the extension service in this area, in connection with the survey.

The survey is conducted through questionnaires and it reveals where and why people of a given community make their purchase. It can be conducted at nominal cost.

It Was Indeed A Stupid Fowl Deed

STERLING, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Logan Mahoney solved the case of the disappearing milk money. She had been leaving money for the milkman in a jar on her front porch. First a dollar bill disappeared. Then 60 cents vanished. The milkman said the jar was always empty when he arrived.

Next day Mrs. Mahoney watched. Up to the jar waddled her two pet geese. They dipped their bills into the jar, carried off the money and then dropped it in the yard.

Four Delta County Teams In Regional Meets

Perkins, Rapid River In Action Tonight; Esky, St. Joe Friday

The Upper Peninsula high school basketball tournament trail reaches the regional stage starting tonight when the first of 16 teams begin the quest for U. P. championships.

In action tonight will be Class D and E district tournament winners. Semifinal games in each class will set the stage for championship games to be played Saturday afternoon at 2.

Class B and C district champions return to action starting tomorrow night. Winners Friday night will be matched in championship games Saturday night.

Tourney Schedules

Escanaba will be represented in Class B by the Escanaba Eskymos and in Class C by the St. Joe Trojans. Two other county teams, Perkins in class E and Rapid River in Class D, will see action tonight.

Tournament schedules follow:

CLASS B

At Houghton

Iron Mountain vs. Negaunee, 7, Friday.

Escanaba vs. Munising, 8:30, Friday.

Championship game, 8, Saturday.

CLASS C

At Negaunee

St. Joe vs. Houghton, 7, Friday.

Wakfield vs. Rudyard, 8:30, Friday.

Championship game, 8, Saturday.

CLASS D

At Negaunee

Mass vs. Pickford, 7, Thursday.

Rapid River vs. Felch, 8:30, Thursday.

Championship game, 2, Saturday.

CLASS E

At Houghton

Perkins vs. Grand Marais, 7, Thursday.

Marenisco vs. Alpha, 8:30, Thursday.

Championship game, 3, Saturday.

Of the four county teams surviving district tournament play, two were in the nature of upsets. Escanaba's scrappy Eskymo quint met and defeated the host Gladstone Braves in the district opener and then trimmed a Menominee team that was rated one of the tops in Class B in the Peninsula. The tall Maroons had twice defeated Escanaba in regular season competition.

Coach Bert Gustafson's Esky team won nine and lost seven in the regular campaign which was marked by regular losses because of illness and disciplinary measures. The Eskymos gave a hint of things to come when they jelled into a dangerous unit late in the season and won seven of their last 10 starts, including district tournament play.

Munising Finished Strong

Escanaba's foe in the first game of the regional tournament Friday night at 8:30 at Houghton will be a vastly improved Munising team that closed the season with a rush to win 12 against six defeats including district tourney wins over Newberry and Sault Ste. Marie by narrow margins.

The Eskymos were in regional competition two seasons ago when

Vic Raschi Impressive On Card Mound; Orioles Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vic Raschi, purchased from the New York Yankees last month, limited the Chicago White Sox to two hits in the four innings he worked Wednesday as the St. Louis Cardinals eked out a 7-5 victory.

The 35-year-old right-hander gave up a home run to Eddie Stewart and a double to Bob Boyd in the first inning, then held the Chisox hitless in the next three frames. "I'm myself again for the first time in four years," he said afterwards.

Because Raschi needed four and sometimes five days rest between starts in 1953, many observers felt that the Cardinals paid too much (reportedly $80,000) for a "once a week" pitcher.

Shantz Is Hit

Plagued by an ailing knee, he won only 13 games last year.

Bobby Shantz, pint-sized Philadelphia Athletics' left-hander, gave up three Cincinnati runs in three innings. He was touched for a home run by third baseman Charley Harmon, a double by Ted Kluszewski and singles by Grady Hatton, Bob Borkowski and Roy McMillan. Philadelphia won the game 4-3 on a ninth-inning squeeze bunt by rookie Forrest Jacobs.

Pinch-hitter Billy Goodman's single in the seventh drove in two runs as the Boston Red Sox topped the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 for the fourth straight triumph. Henry ers, is scheduled Saturday.

Here's how they'll line up for the NCAA title Friday night:

At Philadelphia—Navy vs. Cornell and La Salle vs. North Carolina State.

Irish vs. Indiana

At Iowa City—Penn State vs. Louisiana State and Notre Dame vs. Indiana.

At Stillwater, Okla.—Bradley vs. Colorado and Rice vs. Oklahoma A&M.

At Corvallis, Ore.—Southern California vs. Idaho State and Santa Clara vs. Colorado A&M.

The week-long NAIA Tournament for smaller schools enters the quarter-final round with Springfield (Mo.) State, the defending champion, still in the running.

Bevo Francis, Rio Grande's sensational scorer, made only 27 points as his team was upset by Southeastern Louisiana College 78-65 in the second round Wednesday night.

Hoosiers Top-Ranked

The NCAA field was completed Wednesday with the selection of Colorado to represent the Big Seven Conference. The Buffaloes gained a tie with Kansas in the conference race when the Jayhawkers were upset by Missouri, then won the berth on a draw. Kansas won the NCAA title in 1952, and lost out in the finals to Indiana last year 69-68.

Indiana, which has a better ranking in the Associated Press poll than any team in the NCAA, may have their toughest struggle in their tourney bow this time. The Hoosiers, ranked second nationally go against Notre Dame's 5th-ranked team, which has rolled to 17 consecutive victories. Indiana beat the Irish 66-65 back in December and also eliminated Notre Dame in last year's NCAA Tournament.

"It makes it a little tough to carry three bonus youngsters all year. They are Bob Miller, an 18-year-old left-hander from Berwyn, Ill., who got $60,000 for signing a Tiger contract; Al Kaline, 19, outfielder from Baltimore who got $35,000; and Reno Bertoia, a 19-year-old infielder born in Italy, raised in Canada and a student at the University of Michigan. He received $25,000.

"It makes it a little tough to carry three bonus youngsters all year. They are Bob Miller, an 18-year-old left-hander from Berwyn, Ill., who got $60,000 for signing a Tiger contract; Al Kaline, 19, outfielder from Baltimore who got $35,000; and Reno Bertoia, a 19-year-old infielder born in Italy, raised in Canada and a student at the University of Michigan. He received $25,000.

"Both were outstanding last season. Kuenn, of course, was the American League rookie of the year, batting over .300 and fielding his position well. I think he'll be a better player this year.

One Of Best Hitters

"Boone was one of the best hitters in the league last year coming to us from Cleveland. He was the third leading slugger with 26 home runs and 114 runs batted in. Whether he can continue that pace I just don't know."

The Tigers Wednesday took their beating from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-1. It was Detroit's third exhibition loss in four starts.

Tiger hurlers gave up five home runs, accounting for all the Pirates' runs. Lefty Billy Hoelt gave up two homers and Jim Bunning gave three. Dick Weik, who worked the final two innings, kept the ball in side the fences.

"This is a better team than we had last year," Hutchinson said before the game. "It is not going to battle the Yankees or anybody else for the pennant but it is a young team that will be improving all the time.

Hopes Drop Hits

"We could use more speed and another left-handed long ball hitter. If Walt Drope can start pounding the ball like he did his first year at Boston and if we can get our outfield straightened out, we should make it hot for those first division clubs."

The Tigers, Hutch pointed out, must carry three bonus youngsters all year. They are Bob Miller, an 18-year-old left-hander from Berwyn, Ill., who got $60,000 for signing a Tiger contract; Al Kaline, 19, outfielder from Baltimore who got $35,000; and Reno Bertoia, a 19-year-old infielder born in Italy, raised in Canada and a student at the University of Michigan. He received $25,000.

Hawks Clip Calumet In Final Home Game

Reversing their usual policy of a strong finish, the Escanaba Hawks last night blistered the Calumet Radars with a 4-1 attack in the first period and then coasted into a 5-4 Northern Michigan Hockey League victory in the final home game of the season.

The win for Escanaba also set the pattern for the annual league playoffs which will begin next week. The defeat makes it impossible for Calumet to overtake Marquette for second place in the final standings which means that the Hawks and the Sentinels will tangle in the semifinal elimination series.

Mark Olson, Buddy Provo, Joe Ricci and Ted Olson spearheaded the furious first period thrust in which the Hawks looked better than at any time this season. Ted Olson hit his second goal at 2:42 of the second period to spread Escanaba's lead to 5-1.

The Hawks were content to protect their hefty lead in the last period although they were a constant scoring threat. Calumet hit one goal in the third period, a shot by John Dahlgren on an assist from veteran Johnny Whitaker.

Provo's play drew heavy applause from the sparse crowd in the first period. After narrowly missing a goal on a fine bit of maneuvering, Provo took a long pass from Bill Suriano and weaved across the blue line to beat Reino Aalto easily.

Al's And Mike's To Play in Preliminary

A preliminary game between AF's All Stars and Mike's Bar will open tonight's independent basketball attraction at the Escanaba Junior High gym.

In the main game, Skinny's Bar of Escanaba will meet the Manistique Merchants at 8:30. Skinny's is undefeated atop the Escanaba City League standings and the Merchants won the Manistique league crown and playoffs.

Duke University's basketball team will play in two invitation tournaments during the Christmas holidays—the University of Kentucky Invitational, Dec. 21-22, and North Carolina State's Dixie Classic, Dec. 28-30.

Wins 20th Game

In Class C, Lansing St. Mary, a strong favorite for the title, won its 20th game against one lost by tripping Owosso St. John, 64-45. Marquette ran its record to 17-2, downing Mayville, 74-46.

In Class D, Gobles, with more victories than any team in the state—21—defeated Stevensville, 51-45. Remus (19-2) turned back Au Gres, 49-30, and Ellsworth (19-1) beat Free soil, 64-47.

Teams in the Upper Peninsula, idle so far this week, play tonight, with Rapid River playing Felch in a Class D game at Negaunee.

Field Cut To 104

Tonight's program will cut the tournament field to 104 teams. Originally, 632 teams started from scratch.

Lansing Sexton and Dearborn-Fordson will have to improve over their initial tournament showings if they're to make a serious bid for the class A title.

Fordson had the good fortune to run into a team that was cold in its shooting—Plymouth High. Fordson won 50-37 as the losers hit only 13 per cent of their shots.

Fordson still had to fight much of the way to score its 12th victory in 16 starts. Plymouth pulled to within 19-17 in the second quarter. The Tractors led 24-17 at halftime.

Sexton, you'll recall, had to hustle all the way Tuesday night to beat Bay City Handy, a team which had lost 10 straight games.

Old Rivalry

At Flint, two ancient rivals—Northern and Central—will meet in a game that could go either way.

Archery Club Will Practice Tonight

Regular meeting of the Escanaba Senior Archery Club will be held tonight at 7 at the recreation center and arrangements have been made for extra practice sessions on Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5.

The Junior Club also meets this afternoon at 4. Juniors are getting in final practices for their preliminary shoot which will be held Thursday, March 25.

Jerry Dupont topped the Senior preliminary shoot with a 232 score shooting at a 36-inch target with a six-inch bullseye at 30 yards.

Any interested archers who have not yet joined the program here are welcome to attend the meetings, officials announced.

Escanaba's passing and shooting was extremely effective last night, and defensively the Hawks made a few mistakes.

The Hawks close out the regular season by traveling to Calumet tonight and again Saturday night.
